Location

Nestled in the heart of the scenic Scottish Borders, Town Yetholm is a charming and picturesque village renowned for its peaceful rural setting, strong sense of community, and stunning countryside surroundings. Situated at the end of the famous Pennine Way and close to the England-Scotland border, the village offers an idyllic balance of tranquillity and outdoor adventure, with excellent walking, cycling, and fishing opportunities right on the doorstep. Despite its rural setting, Town Yetholm benefits from a range of local amenities including a well-stocked community shop and post office, welcoming pubs and eateries, a village hall, garage and visitor facilities that support a thriving year-round community. Characterful period properties, beautiful landscapes and easy access to the nearby market town of Kelso further enhance its appeal, making Town Yetholm a highly desirable location for those seeking a relaxed lifestyle in one of Scotland's most attractive and unspoilt regions.
